

EC 621

June 15, 2019

We regret the delay in transmitting the English and other (except French) editions that were due last week. Technical difficulties, since remedied, got in the way of our receiving the weekly text from His Excellency. We should be on course from here on out. Readers are thanked for their patience.